Belief is the attitude we have whenever we take something to be the case or regard it as the truth.. In epistemology, philosophers use the term "belief" to refer to personal attitudes associated with true or false ideas and concepts. However, "belief" does not require active introspection and circumspection. For example, we never ponder whether or not the sun will rise.

One way to prevent yourself from suffering is to just become rich yourself. Surely, relying on the rich to "trickle down" the wealth they attain from tax breaks may work for some time; however, to think that just because the top pay fewer taxes means that everybody will get wage increases does not make much sense (why pay people more to do the exact same job?).
